

MEMBERS OF US CONGRESS DELEGATION TO VISIT ARGENTINA

March 6-8, 2016

JEFF DUNCAN (R - South Carolina, 3rd District):

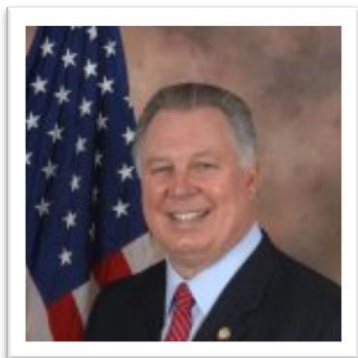

Elected in 2010 to the 112th Congress, Congressman Duncan is a member of the following three House committees: Natural Resources, Homeland Security, and Foreign Affairs. He also serves as the Subcommittee Chairman of Homeland Security's Oversight and Management Efficiency Subcommittee, and on the Executive Committee for the Tom Lantos Human Rights Commission. Congressman Duncan views nuclear power as a key ingredient in the equation of energy independence and job creation and he is not in favor of federal energy subsidies for alternative energy or ethanol. Jeff also strongly supports stronger enforcement of immigration laws and opposes amnesty for illegal immigrants already in the country.

Duncan served as a member of the South Carolina State House of Representatives from 2002-2010, where he served as the Chairman of the House Agriculture, Natural Resources and Environmental Affairs Committee from 2007 to 2009. Jeff Duncan is a South Carolina native and a 1988 graduate of Clemson University.

ALBIO SIRES (D – New Jersey, 8th District):

Congressman Sires is a member of the Democratic Caucus' Livable Communities Task Force, the Congressional Urban Caucus, and two Committees: Foreign Affairs and Transportation and Infrastructure. On the Foreign Affairs Committee, Congressman Sires is the Ranking Member of the Western Hemisphere Subcommittee and is a member of the Europe and Eurasia Subcommittee. He is focused on improving human rights across the globe and building international partnerships to improve our nation's security. During his first term in the U.S. House of Representatives, Congressman Sires served on the Financial Services Committee, focused on introducing legislation to create affordable housing. Prior to that, Sires proudly served as Mayor of West New York, New Jersey from 1995 to 2006 and as Speaker of the New Jersey State Assembly.

Born in the Cuban town of Bejucal, he grew up in the waning years of pre-Communist Cuba. He attended St. Peter's College and received a Master's Degree from Middlebury College in Vermont.

DAVID SCHWEIKERT (R – Arizona, 6th District):

David Schweikert is serving his third term in the United States Congress. He holds a seat on the Financial Services Committee, Joint Economic Committee, Co-Chairs the Valley Fever Task force with House Majority Leader Kevin McCarthy, and is the Republican Co-Chair of both the Tunisia Caucus as well as the Caucus on Access to Capital & Credit. By the age of 30 years old, David was serving as the Majority Whip in the Arizona state legislature. There, he chaired the Indian Affairs Committee and rolled up his sleeves working on the state budget, healthcare system, and passed landmark tax reform and second amendment legislation. David and his wife Joyce enjoy backpacking and they host a bi-annual overnight down the Grand Canyon.

TED YOHO (Republican – Florida, 3rd Distrito)

Elected to Congress in 2012, Ted S. Yoho represents North Central Florida's 3rd Congressional district. His approach to government is guided by constitutional principles, limited government, fiscal conservatism, personal responsibility, and free enterprise. Prior to Congress, Mr. Yoho was a small business owner who operated several large animal veterinary practices for 30 years. Congressman Yoho serves on the House Committee on Agriculture and the House Committee on Foreign Affairs.

Congressman Yoho earned a Bachelor's from the University of Florida and a Doctorate of Veterinary Medicine.

SCOTT DESJARLAIS (R – Tennessee, 4th District)

Congressman DesJarlais serves on the Committee for Oversight and Government Reform, the Committee on Foreign Affairs and the Committee on Agriculture. He has a proven track record of fighting for policies that that will return fiscal discipline and accountability to Washington and strengthen our nation's economy. He has fought to balance the budget, repeal Obamacare and reduce the size of the federal government. National Journal Magazine has ranked Congressman DesJarlais as the fourth most conservative member of the United States House of Representatives and Congressional Quarterly listed him as one of the top five Members of Congress who has consistently voted against President Obama's agenda.

Dr. DesJarlais earned his degrees in Chemistry and Psychology and his MD from the University of South Dakota.

RAÚL LABRADOR (R – Idaho, 1st District):

Elected to the Idaho House of Representatives in 2006 and the U.S. House in 2010, Congressman Labrador is a steadfast advocate for free markets, limited government and civil liberties. In Congress, Raúl has fought for tax reform, fiscal responsibility, regulatory restraint, increased domestic energy production, transparency in government and the protection of civil and religious liberties. Raúl serves as the vice chairman of the Judiciary Subcommittee on Immigration and Border Security and of the Natural Resources Subcommittee on Oversight and Investigations. In January, he was one of nine founding members of the House Freedom Caucus, which is working to advance an agenda of a limited, constitutional government and give voice to those who feel Washington doesn't represent them.

Labrador was born in Carolina, Puerto Rico, graduated from Brigham Young University and earned his law degree from the University of Washington.
